L. A. School Bond Issues Lose

LOS ANGELES, June 6.—Two school bond issues, totaling $29,400,000 and calling for the erection of elementary and high schools, were defeated in yesterday's special election here.

Would Let Indian Stay Where He Is

SACRAMENTO, June 6.—Sentimentality should give way to practicality in the solving of Indian problems, Fred G. Stevenson, director of the state department of natural resources, stated today. The Indian wants to stay where he is, Stevenson claims, and attempts to move him elsewhere should be abandoned.

message was not as had been hoped, from the airship. There was no doubt that a message had been picked up, but officials feared, after a country-wide checkup, that it had been a garbled version of a message broadcast by one of the many rescue agencies. Regardless of their pessimism, government officials continued to rush plans for airplane and ice breaker search of the Franz Josef Land vicinity.

FOUR ARE MISSING IN VALLEY FLOOD

It was said officially today that a portion of Sage flat, becoming saturated, slid into the channel and backed up Big Pine creek. Bursting of this accidental dam caused the water rush. Property damage was slight, although the intake keeper's house at Big Pine power plant was washed away and water bureau facilities were injured.

Former Officer Faces Charge Of Accepting Bribe

HUNTINGTON PARK, June 6.—Charles A. Imus, former sergeant-lieutenant of the Huntington Park police station, was held in Los Angeles county jail today facing a grand jury indictment charging accepting a bribe. Imus was accused of accepting protection money. His bail was fixed at $5000. He is said to have been a former deputy sheriff in Kingman, Ariz.

PACIFIC FLYERS WILL RESUME FLIGHT TODAY

Ulm from insolvency when they complete their flight from California to Australia.

Newspapers in Sydney and other cities took up the cause of the airmen. Stories were printed that, despite the backing of Allen Hismock, millionaire oil man of Los Angeles, the aviators were $7000 pounds in debt. One newspaper called for subscriptions "large or small", while another, in making a financial plea, said: "Is it a case of Kingsford-Smith flying from the Golden Gate to Poverty Point?"

One of the first contributions received here was by a former American sailor, who donated a half dollar.

Taken Up In Parliament
The financial status of the flyers came up in federal parliament today when Prime Minister Bruce was questioned regarding the reported $6000 pounds indebtedness. While the prime minister refrained from answering questions, it was authoritatively stated that a large federal money grant would be made to help finance the expedition.

The grant, it was said, was likely to include the Americans, Lt. Harry Lyon, navigator, and James Warner, radio operator. The trans-Pacific flight was originally planned when the wave of aviation enthusiasm followed the successful crossing of the Atlantic by Col. Charles Lindbergh was at its height.

Captain Kingsford-Smith sought the aid of the Australian government for his project, and it was promised and advance payments were made toward securing a plane.

Preparations Started in U. S.
Captain Kingsford-Smith left for the United States and began preparations for the undertaking last summer.

Then came the disastrous Dole flight from Oakland to Honolulu, in which seven aviators were lost. Several transatlantic flights ended in tragedy.

Convinced that an attempt to cross the Pacific would be a hopeless risk of human life, the Australian government withdrew its support and urged Captain Kingsford-Smith to return home. With limited resources, Captain Kingsford-Smith went ahead with his plans, but because of the lateness of the season was finally forced to abandon the flight until this year.

Sought Endurance Record
In the meantime he made three attempts in California to break the world's endurance flight record with the Southern Cross. The attempt failed through exhaustion of the fuel supply, but convinced Captain Kingsford-Smith his plane was capable of crossing the Pacific.

The aid of Hancock at last was secured and funds were advanced from time to time to prepare for the takeoff.

But even with the private backing he has received, Captain Kingsford-Smith faces financial ruin as the result of his history making flight, according to Sydney newspapers.

Americans Will Continue On To Australia

By SIR MAYNARD HEDSTROM
United Press Special Correspondent
SUVA, Fiji Islands, June 1.—(Thursday)—The crew of the trans-Pacific plane Southern Cross made ready today for their flight to Brisbane, Australia, 1795 miles from Suva.

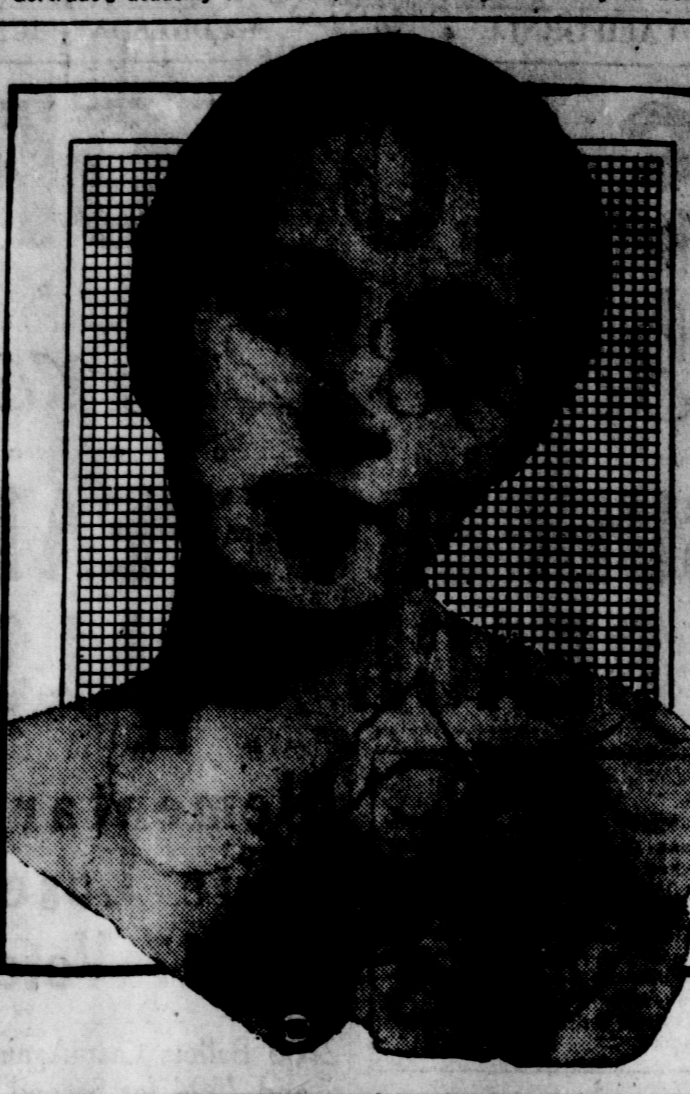

The main problem confronting the four aviators of the Southern Cross today was the selection of a suitable place from which they can take off with a fuel load of 900 gallons of gasoline.

In spite of expert maneuvering of the giant plane as it landed on the recreation field here, the margin of safety was dangerously small and Captain Kingsford-Smith narrowly averted crashing into a tree and a fence at the end of the field.

Army officers urged Captain Kingsford-Smith to move the plane to Nasellei Beach, about 15 miles from Suva, where a long stretch of ground would be available for the plane to gain momentum necessary to lift its great weight.

Captain Kingsford-Smith announced the two Americans with the Southern Cross, Capt. Harry Lyon, navigator, and James Warner, radio operator, would continue the flight to Australia.

Originally it was planned for the two Americans to leave the expedition here and for Captain Kingsford-Smith and his fellow countryman, Charles T. P. Ulm, relief pilot, to go on to their native land alone.

Engines in Good Condition
Captain Kingsford-Smith and Ulm made a thorough inspection of the Southern Cross and tested out its motors today. They pronounced the craft in as perfect condition as when they took off from Oakland airport, in California, a week ago.

Lyon checked the charts for the flight of nearly 1800 miles over the Pacific to Brisbane and Warner superintended the recharging of the batteries of his radio set and made minor repairs in the set.

EDITORS PREVIEW NEWSPAPER FILM

CULVER CITY, Calif., June 6.—It's the motion picture public's loss.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer announced today that while all of the screen tests taken at that studio last night were successful, the potential screen stars who made camera appearances are to be spared for the reading public.

Some 600 Southern California newspaper men and their wives and friends were guests at the film plant, where they did killer duty, met Marion Davis, dined and then saw pictures of themselves taken earlier.

Also they previewed "Telling the World," a picture of world-wide news gathering, featuring William Haines, as a United Press correspondent, and the lovely Anita Page as the girl marked for a Chinese beheading axe.

VAIL FIELD URGED ON L. A. COUNCIL

LOS ANGELES, June 6.—City council has been presented with a proposition to lease Vail field, on Telegraph road, as a municipal airport.

Vail proponents pointed out that the field now has a double A rating with the federal government and with the installation of proper lighting it immediately would become a triple A field, the highest rating given airports by the government.

Vail field has been used by the Western Air Express during the last two years. The offer to lease to the city included an option to purchase the field.

G. O. P. LEADERS WORRIED OVER BORAH PLANKS

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, June 6.—Platform troubles are brewing for both the Republican and Democratic national conventions.

Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, one of the most famous orators of the Republican party, will leave here tomorrow for Kansas City, with two proposed platforms in his satchel, both of which may have an important bearing on the convention results.

The first would set the Republican party up definitely as the dry party of the United States, pledging it to a more rigid and enthusiastic enforcement policy than has been promised in previous platforms.

The second would condemn the old policy of campaign contributions and would seek to place the party on record for repayment of the $140,000 campaign contributions obtained by former Chairman Will H. Hays, of the Republican national committee, from Harry F. Sinclair, oil man, who leased Teapot Dome and was adjudged guilty of jury tampering.

Borah will be a member of the resolutions committee which will draw the platform.

Leaders who favor less decisive expressions than Borah have indicated they are fearful Borah will not be content with conducting a losing fight in the platform committee and may carry his demands to the floor of the convention itself.

Some Democratic leaders, too, have noticed disturbances lately over the plan for a "harmony platform" which would pledge the party to law enforcement without eulogizing either the 18th amendment or the Volstead act.

Many southern states have selected delegates instructed to vote only for dry presidential candidates. They might carry their instructions to the resolutions committee seeking a bone dry plank in the platform before the balloting begins.

If the friends and supporters of Gov. Alfred E. Smith, of New York, are in the majority, however, they can put through the "harmony" program even if a fight is started in the resolutions committee by ardent dries, it is held.

GEORGE TOBIAS HEADS COLLEGE STUDENT BODY

George Tobias, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Tobias, of Garden Grove, was elected president of the Santa Ana junior college student body for the coming semester at an election held yesterday.

Other officers elected were George Butler, vice president; Janet Wilson, secretary, and Harold Watson, treasurer.

George Tobias is prominent in athletics at the junior college while Miss Janet Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Wilson, of Balboa, is prominent in junior college Y. W. C. A. work. Harold Watson lives in Huntington Beach. He is a track and football man. George Butler, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Butler, is connected with a number of junior college activities.

The new officers were opposed by Willard White, who ran for president; Leonard Morris, for vice president; Alice Prather, for secretary, and Lewis Hanson, for treasurer.

LITTLE SPACE REQUIRED FOR G. O. P. CONFAB

By RALPH TURNER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 6.—Transcontinental travelers who know vaguely of Kansas City as the town of the handsome union station and the provocative war memorial, may be interested in learning just how Republican party machine sets amid this mid-western scenery.

This is going to be the most economical convention for shoe-leather and shanks mare that the Republicans have held within the memory of the oldest national committee. Take one of Barmup's big tops and you could drop it over almost the whole show.

Start at two hotels, the Meulbach and the Baltimore. Anyone who has stopped between trains long enough to get away from the union station knows where they are—65 cents taxi distance up town at the corner of Twelfth and Baltimore, diagonally opposite each other.

One is a relatively modern upstart built about the time they began to conserve space in hotels, the other a still imposing monument of the good old days.

National committees are housed mostly in these two hotels. They will be the center of what-ever midnight pow-wowing that takes place. Working rooms of newspapers and press associations are at the Meulbach.

The most imposing of the campaign headquarters, one at the Baltimore where you see Lowden-for-President on the messanine and Hoover-for-President with a couple of more rooms on the third floor. Curtis-for-President will be doing business too, by the end of the week.

Now for the big show. Starting at the traffic signal between the Meulbach and Baltimore, walk three blocks west to Twelfth and Broadway and there you are—convention hall. It will be no new experience for that building to see the nomination of a presidential candidate.

Twenty-eight years ago William Jennings Bryan received one of his nominations there.

That completes a tour. A delegate may sleep, eat, vote, buy a clean shirt or a bottle of high powered beer without walking more than three blocks from any given point.

It will be a poor convention for those visitors who figure taxi fares as a convenient and flexible item for expense accounts.

Bail Of Orange Man Is Reduced

ORANGE, June 6.—Edgar B. Lembke, 324 North Cleveland avenue, returned yesterday from Riverside, where he visited the persons injured in an automobile accident on New Magnolia street last week. Lembke's car struck the three as they stood in the middle of the street waiting for a car. The street lights were not on and the street was darkened by shade trees. Lembke declares he did not see the parties until his car hit them.

The investigating officers admit, says Lembke, that the accident was due to the fact that the street lights were not on. Lembke's bail has now been fixed at $500. His bail originally was $1200. The young man is a student at Berkeley and is home on his vacation.

Santa Ana motorcycle officers today served notice on the public that driving off the highway on the left side of the street and down the center would cause arrests in the future.

Driving anywhere except on the right side of the highway is a violation of section 122 of the state traffic laws, and because of many complaints received by the police department during the past several days, motorcycle officers were instructed to arrest persons violating this section of the state vehicle act.

Most of the violations have been reported on North and South Main streets, it was reported.

Man Hurt When Machines Collide

Earl McCullah, Santa Ana route No. 3, was slightly injured at 8:45 p. m. yesterday, when the automobile in which he was riding with Robert Stroud, of the same address, collided with a car driven by J. M. Heaton, 1345 Orange avenue, according to a report filed with the city police department.

The accident occurred at the intersection of South Main and Oxford streets. McCullah was cut about the legs, it was reported.

L. A. MAN FINED ON LIQUOR CHARGES

The charge of escaping an officer, lodged against C. J. Wheeler, 48, Los Angeles, following his arrest several days ago by Harry Carter, deputy sheriff, was changed to transportation and possession of liquor today, when Wheeler was taken before Justice Kenneth Morrison.

Wheeler pleaded guilty to these charges and was given a $500 fine, which he paid.

Wheeler is asserted to have run away from Officer Carter, who Carter was attempting to hold another prisoner at Third and Main streets on May 26. He was later arrested in Los Angeles.

DRIVERS TOLD TO WATCH OUT FOR CHILDREN

With the coming of June and the closing of schools, many children will be found playing and for this reason, L. C. Rogers, chief of police, has instructed officers to be more careful in their watch over school children.

Drivers of automobiles will be watched more carefully and speeding and other violations will be the cause for more arrests than usual, he predicted.

The work of the California public safety conference in June is concentrated on the protection of children, and police departments throughout the state are co-operating, Rogers said.

State traffic officers here have been asked to pay more attention to streets where children are likely to be playing.

Court Notes

Sadie M. Irwin brought suit today against J. L. Ainsworth today in which she asked $7008.35 and a sheriff's sale of property which she claims she sold to the defendant but for which she alleged he has not paid. On June 1, she asserted, she offered the deed to Ainsworth in return for the agreed purchase price, but stated that he refused to accept it or to pay the money.

Mary Weisgerger brought suit today against Bernard Flanagan, executor of the estate of Lizzie W. Fuller, who died last August, asking $1187 alleged to be due for 53 weeks nursing service. She claimed that she had presented her claim but had been allowed only $250.

Blanche Anderson, F. J. Manrique and Hugh A. Thatcher brought three separate suits today against Skidmore brothers, of Laguna Beach. They alleged that they had paid for property which the defendants agreed to transfer to them, but that the conveyance had not been made.

A petition for letters of administration in the estate of Maren Nielson, who died May 2, was filed today. It was stated that the estate is valued at $2506. Mrs. Elmer Schneider, Santa Ana, was named an heir.

Newport Officers Investigate Attack

NEWPORT BEACH, June 6.—Police have launched an investigation into an attack on Mrs. Adah Walters, of 412 Surf street, Monday night. According to a report by Mrs. Walters to police, she returned home about midnight. She heard a noise in her home and when she went into the living room to investigate, a man grabbed her. They struggled for some time and in the fight, the telephone was knocked from the stand. The telephone operator, sensing that something was wrong, called the police.

The intruder rushed from the house before the police arrived.

In point of registered delegates, the district convention recently held at Sacramento was the largest in the history of district conventions of Rotary International. William McKay, secretary of the Santa Ana club, told his fellow members yesterday in reporting on the Sacramento convention at the club meeting at St. Ann's Inn.

Pointing out that 4377 registered for the convention, the secretary said that the number represented more than 50 per cent of the total membership in the district, with every club in the district being represented except the club at Hilo, Hawaiian Islands.

W. C. Jerome, president of the club, Ben Jerome and Earl Matthews also presented features of the annual conference, all commenting on the magnitude of the assemblage and the benefits derived from attendance.

WEST COAST STRENGTH IN HOOVER VOTE

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The west, which has been so strong in the last few years about her supremacy over the east in football, also is able to talk about the decadence of eastern politicians.

It is to that, primarily, that Herbert Hoover owes his excellent chance of being nominated for president. Mr. Hoover, of course, was born in Iowa and made his home in California.

The leading eastern politicians who ought to be dominating the party, or at least the successors of those politicians who always have dominated it and the representatives of the influences which are the party's backbone, have failed miserably this year in the attempt.

One of them, of course, to such extent as National Chairman William M. Butler of Massachusetts, Vice Chairman Charlie Hillis of New York and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon of Pennsylvania.

Apparently they haven't the strength or cunning of the old fellows, like Penrose, Quay and Murray Crane. None of them wanted Hoover for the party candidate, though Mellon at least now realizes that they may have to take him.

But at that they could have stopped Hoover if there hadn't been such a frightful dearth of stopping material in the eastern states. It was their inability to find a man who could hold New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts which really allowed Hoover to slip into his commanding lead.

The time-honored trick, of course, would have been to let an eastern candidate corral the eastern delegates, let Lowden round up the middle west and Hoover the Pacific coast and whatever else he could find en route. If this scheme had worked, Hoover could have been held to some 300 delegates, the convention would have deadlocked and the bosses could have had their own man, who would have been none other than President Coolidge.

Coolidge refused to stoop to such trickery. Then they hurried for Charles Evans Hughes, who was not quite so impressive owing to his 1916 defeat. Hughes, realizing that he was weak in the west and that he apparently was in line for a job as a mere hatchling post, ducked out. And then there just wasn't anybody to the east of Senator Frank Willis in Ohio. The old rule that "you can't beat somebody with nobody" worked inexorably.

Except for Coolidge, New England was barren of presidential possibilities. None of her senators would do. Governor Fuller of Massachusetts was out because of the Sacco-Vanzetti case and the fact that it wasn't smart politics to nominate two Massachusetts governors in succession.

All the leading New York Republicans but Hughes had been beaten by Al Smith or some other Democrat and none had shown an ability to hold his own state. No Pennsylvanian was available for various reasons, especially owing to the unfavorable reputation of the state's politics.

It was a very sad situation indeed, and while the bosses were wringing their hands Hoover walked in and grabbed up a lot of delegates.

Al Smith is the one big exception to the fact that the outstanding political personalities of this nation come from the west. Coolidge, of course, became president by accident. The parties just naturally don't pick their candidates from New England.

Thus Smith is the only real eastern candidate. Otherwise the ten northeasternmost states are unrepresented in the face of Hoover of California, Lowden and Dawes of Illinois, Curtis of Kansas, Watson of Indiana, Reed of Missouri, Walsh of Montana and Democratic favorite sons from the south.

In 1924, of 16 Democratic candidates voted for at the convention only Smith and Governor Selzer of New Jersey were from the northeast, as compared with nine out of 23 in 1920, five of 13 in 1912 and eight of 13 in 1904.

In the 1920 Republican scramble the leading candidates were Wood, who was blocked by the New York-Pennsylvania politicians, Lowden of Illinois and Johnson and Hoover of California.

ANAHEIM ACADEMY ARRANGES DRILLS

ANAHEIM, June 6.—Plans for impressive drills and ceremonies to be held next Sunday to mark the close of the year's activities of St. Catherine's Military Academy cadet battalion were announced this morning by Capt. D. M. Healy, leader of the group.

The ceremonies are to be held on the academy parade grounds at 3:30 o'clock and the general public is invited to attend, Captain Healy announced.

St. Catherine's band will give a concert from 3:30 to 4 o'clock as the opening feature of the program which will also include the annual company competitive drill, the dress parade of the battalion and the awarding of commissions and warrants.

2 INJURED ANAHEIM RESIDENTS BETTER

ANAHEIM, June 6.—Ben M. Yorba, well known Anaheim rancher, who suffered a fractured skull and a broken leg in an automobile accident last Thursday, was reported at the Anaheim sanitarium this morning to be materially improved and, it is thought, out of danger.

The condition of A. Glenn Wright, of Fullerton, former Anaheim resident, who is in the Anaheim sanitarium suffering from serious skull injuries, was reported this morning as improved.

Wright, who received a fractured skull a week ago when he fell down a flight of stairs at Huntington Beach, was operated upon last Saturday for a clot on the brain after having been unconscious for an entire week. He is now conscious and hope is held out for his recovery.

The Bolsa Social club is giving a card party Thursday evening at the clubhouse with Mrs. I. D. Wallingford and Mrs. Bob Keller as hostesses.

A card received Monday by Mrs. Helen Barnes from her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Barnes, who with a party of Mrs. Barnes' relatives are motoring through to New York and other eastern points on a vacation trip, was mailed at Santa Fe, New Mexico, and reported a fine trip.

At the Sunday morning church services at the Bolsa Japanese Independent church, the congregation welcomed the pastor, the Rev. S. T. Ban, who has been absent the past four and a half months.

The Rev. Mr. Ban spoke to the Sunday school members, telling them stories of Japan.

Japanese Pastor Returns From Trip

TALBERT, June 6.—The Rev. T. S. Ban, pastor of the local Japanese church, has arrived home in Talbert following an absence of 138 days, during which period he travelled 20,000 miles through Japan and the Hawaiian Islands, where he was an educator for a number of years.

The Rev. Mr. Ban sailed from America as a representative of the Mussetto, the new political party of Japan, with the intention of entering the race for a seat in the house of representatives but arrived in Japan three days too late to enter the election.

The Rev. Mr. Ban lectured 241 times on political issues, religion and education. While in Hawaii he gave 15 lectures. The Rev. Mr. Ban had published in Japanese newspapers and magazines 15 articles and 28 original poems. The articles stressed the importance of the friendship of Japan and the United States.

On the advice of F. Morita, chairman of the house of representatives of Japan, the local man plans on again trying for the place of American representative at the next election in Japan.

It Lifts Your Spirit

By Edna Wallace Hopper

The vigor of a March wind carries you along with a light heart. Spring is approaching and the world seems gay and hopeful.

It's great for your spirit but hard on your skin. Every gust of wind ruthlessly plants tiny particles of dust in your pores, takes the naturally smooth texture. Your most precious skin is constantly exposed to these harsh effects.

But you can erase the inroads upon beauty with a little care and the right help, which I spent years to find.

I call this help my Facial Youth. It is a liquid cleanser which soothes the skin and actually removes the dust and grime, which are so destructive. Soap and water merely cleanse the surface, and have a coarsening effect.

Facial Youth does not grow hair. It has a clean, fresh odor. It's a pleasure to use this gently soothing cleanser. I know of nothing which does more to retain youthful firm smoothness of face.

May I urge you, for beauty's sake, to buy a bottle at any toilet counter? The price is 45 cents. Your money back if you are not satisfied.—Adv.

AN OPEN LETTER to the 1,290,315 Depositors of the Bank of Italy

This letter is directed especially to those of our esteemed patrons who have NOT as yet made a Will—and also to those who HAVE made one and have named some friend, relative or other individual to act as Executor of their estates.

If you have not made a Will, you should go immediately to your attorney and have this vitally important document carefully drawn. This will at least insure the distribution of your estate according to your own desires.

If you have had a Will prepared, examine it carefully TODAY and see if it meets all changed conditions in your life. If it does NOT—have it brought up-to-date AT ONCE.

If you have named an INDIVIDUAL to act as your Executor, you may be jeopardizing the interests of your heirs. The most satisfactory type of Executor and Trustee can NEVER be an individual, because human beings become sick, have accidents, die, take vacations, move to other states or countries, or may even become careless, neglectful, dishonest, lazy or indifferent.

Therefore, we would suggest, for the sake of your heirs and your own peace of mind, that you substitute a corporate Executor and Trustee in place of an individual, so that an efficient and dependable administration of your affairs, after you are gone may be assured.

And may we point out that the Trust Department of the Bank of Italy is a most desirable Executor and Trustee. It offers financial responsibility, broad experience, thorough reliability, permanence, punctuality, efficiency, accuracy, safety, economy and constant availability. It is impartial and unprejudiced—yet always humanly considerate.

All the advantages of Bank of Italy trust service are obtainable at a cost no greater than the fees allowed by law to an individual acting in the same capacity; and frequently by reason of superior service the cost is actually less.

Our officers at any branch will gladly give you any desired information without placing you under the slightest obligation.

Cordially yours,
James A. Basciglipi

PARENTS GIVEN HONOR BY H. S. ENGINEER CLUB

For the first time in the history of the Santa Ana high school Engineering club, fathers and mothers were invited to the annual banquet recently held in the Modern Woodmen hall. This innovation was so successful, that it is sure to be followed in later banquets.

After the sumptuous chicken dinner, prepared by Mrs. Charles Tibbetta, "mother" to the club, was served, eight of the club members gave short speeches. John Dunlap spoke on "Engineers and Engineering." "Television" was discussed by Myron Dungan. Lloyd Manderscheid gave some interesting facts on Boulder dam. Kenneth Price gave a general history, description and discussion of the megastar airplane, Albatross. William Minor presented the advantages of aeronautics as a profession. Radio and air craft was featured by Edward Mendor. Joe Warner explained why the St. Francis dam collapsed. Charles Greenleaf, business manager, gave his financial report.

Thomas Cone, a member of the track team and a prominent figure in student body activities, was unanimously elected to lead the club next year as president. William Minor was voted vice president. John Keeler was elected to the office of secretary and Charles Greenleaf and John Dunlap were re-elected to the positions of business manager and publicity agent, respectively.

Other after dinner speeches were given by the various guests of honor. Remarks were made by J. A. Cranton, superintendent of schools; D. K. Hammond, principal; William Clayton, vice-principal; Ray Adkinson, faculty member; Charles Tibbetta, faculty advisor of the club; M. L. Keeler and Sam Dungan.

As a little token of the gratitude of the club to Mr. and Mrs. Tibbetta, they were presented with a camping eating outfit and a big thermos jar carrying hot or cold food.
